

POLICEMAN CAPTURES BUZZARD. Joseph Grike, of the Thirty-first Police District, is displaying one bird he "pinched" after long battle. Sentence: Life in the Zoo.

OVER THE HURDLES AND DITCH. "Governor Wood," ridden by F. Rees, is shown leading the way in the Waterloo Selling Steeplechase Handicap in England. Note the obstacles on both sides of the ditch.

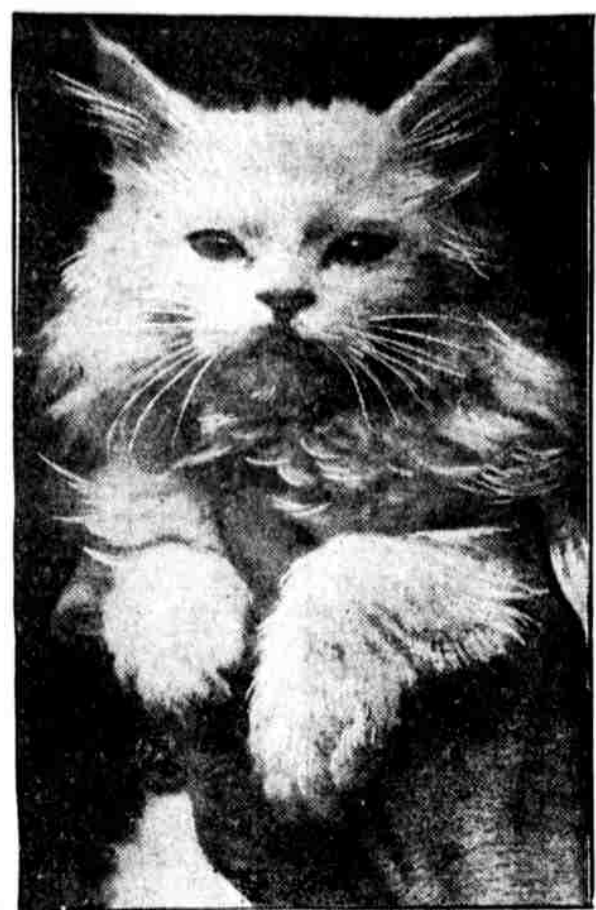

CAN YOU RECALL THIS BIT OF OLD PHILADELPHIA?

WHERE FORMER PENN ATHLETES SHOWED THEIR PROWESS. The photograph of the University of Pennsylvania athletic grounds was taken October 14, 1887, during a class competition. M. G. Rosengarten, Jr., a noted runner, is about to touch the tape, winner in a 100-yard dash. On this site the dormitories of the University now stand. It was in 1898 that Franklin Field was opened. The building in the background is the University Hospital. Have you an old Philadelphia photograph? Send it to the EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER.

MANY CATS WERE THERE. An exhibition of cats was held in connection with the Philadelphia Poultry Show at the First Regiment Armory. At the left is Mrs. H. B. McCann with General Greystone. The cat at the right is Mimi.

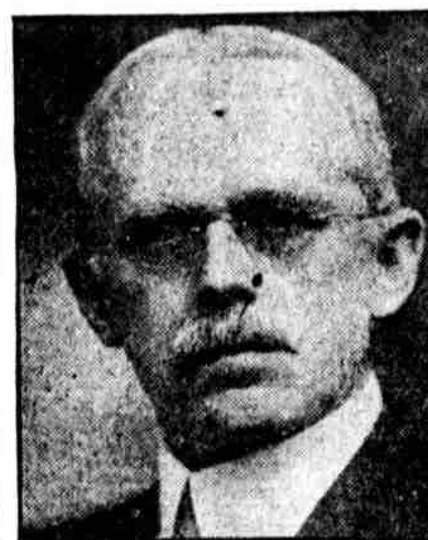

JAMES MURRAY, 107 years old, New York's oldest man, works every day at Trinity Cemetery.

RUSSIAN REFUGEE. Madame Kousnezoff, a favorite in Russian social life, is among those living in London.

BOTH BUSY IN KENTUCKY LEGISLATURE. Mrs. Mary E. Plannery, a member of the lower house, and her son, John Elliott Plannery, who has just been appointed a page in the chamber.

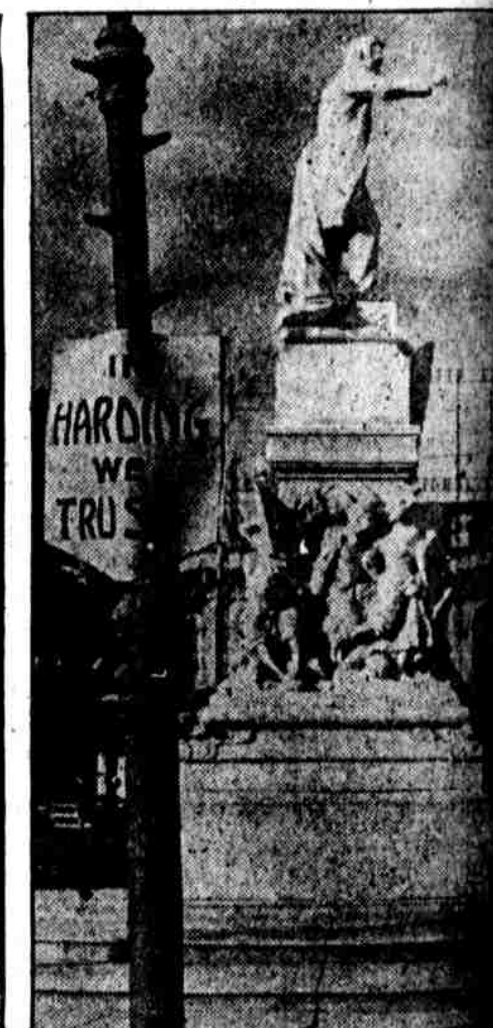

DR. LEWIS R. HARLEY talks on the education of women in an Editorial Page interview.

TRIED HARD. John Dern, of the Penn football team, in discus-throwing contest.

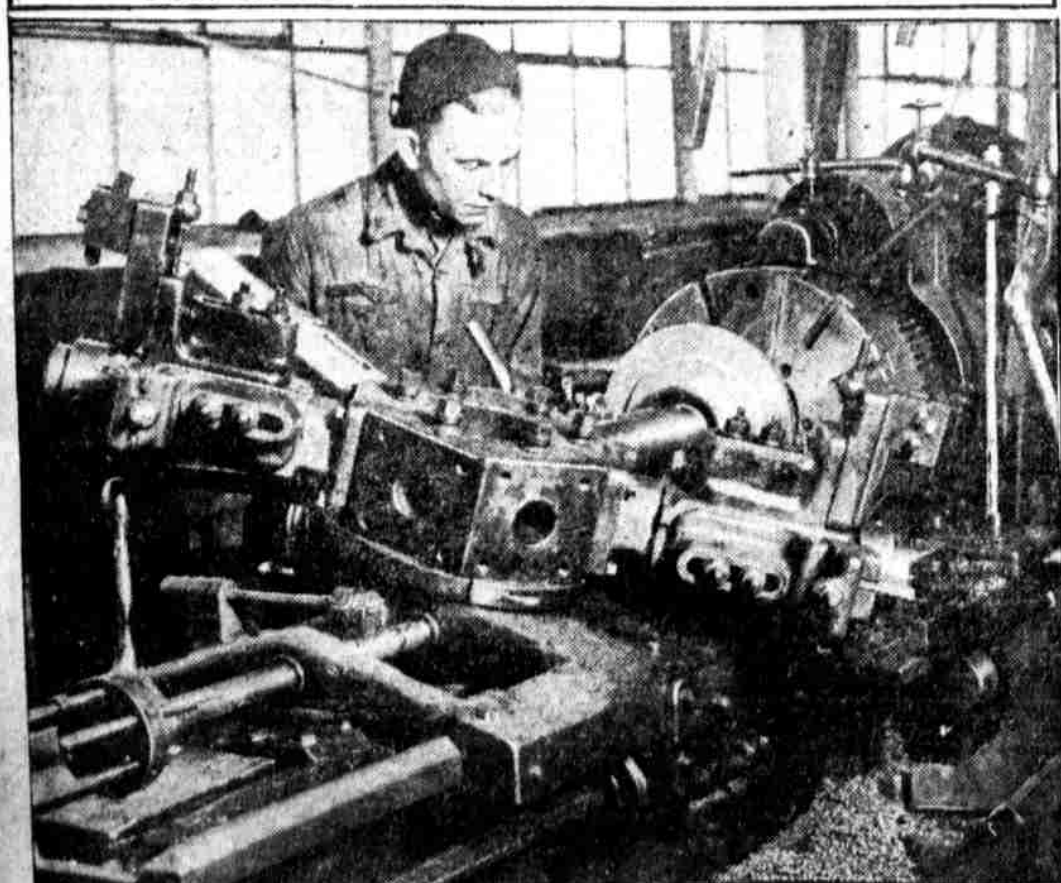

A "BALKAN GYPSY" AND A REFLECTION. Mrs. Malcolm D. Sloane, society woman, as she appeared in benefit for New York Soldiers and Sailors' Club.

CUBANS PROTEST AGAINST AMERICAN SUGAR TARIFF. Signs of this sort were found by hundreds in streets and parks.

OUR CITY'S WORKERS AND WHAT THEY DO

HARRY DAVIDSON, 2006 East Tioga street, making hubs for motortruck axles in the shop of the Hero Manufacturing Company, Twenty-third and Westmoreland streets.

CAME OUT TO POSE. As the photographer made his way toward the water pool at the Zoo, the seal crawled out and came to "attention" on the snow-covered rocks.

ATTENDING MOTHERS' CONGRESS. Mrs. A. A. Berney, honorary vice president of the Congress of Mothers (left) and Mrs. William F. Thatcher, of South America.

BUSY PHILADELPHIANS

JOHN J. O'DONNELL, head raying teller at the Continental-Equitable Title and Trust Company. He's married and has four children. Motorboating is his hobby.